

Modern Philanthropy

Kent Swig Receives Police Museum Award

Posted in Uncategorized on May 31, 2010 by modernphilanthropy

It's hard to imagine that an individual who works in the hectic, non-stop, and competitive New York City real estate market would have the time or energy to give back to the community. For Kent Swig, giving back to the community is a necessity and he makes it a priority no matter how hectic his schedule.

On November 1st 2007 Mr. Swig, President of Swig Equities and Co-Chairman of Terra Holdings, was honored at the Police Hero Awards, an evening in tribute to New York's finest. The event was co-chaired by Howard Safir and Robert Sorin and emceed by News Anchor Ernie Anastos.

The event supported children's educational programs at The New York City Police Museum. The visitors to the museum are exposed to what it actually feels like to be a police officer in multicultural